

Who should attend this one day course

Managers and front line staff working with vulnerable adults or children and young people in any care or support setting

Introducing Faiers Training

Faiers Training uses twenty-one years of experience in the care & support sector to deliver training that is both professional & practical

COURSE OVERVIEW

Participants identify what makes them tick and how that influences the way in which they work with vulnerable client groups. Participants often leave with a fresh understanding of how easy it is to influence vulnerable clients without realising that you have been doing it and that self-awareness helps you work with clients in ways that promotes their independence and choices. In the second part of the day we focus on what is acceptable / unacceptable in ways of working with their specific client groups. We examine what needs to be addressed in agreeing sensible professional boundaries and codes of conduct.

COURSE CONTENTS

- What are values? - Where do our personal values come from & how do they influence our actions?
- Understanding Conflict - How do we react when our values conflict with those of others and what are the consequences of that conflict
- What is Power & how does it influence our relationship with service users
- How we communicate – including what we convey without realising it
- Recognising acceptable & which unacceptable behaviour – Also knowing when a decision may depend on the circumstances?
- Applying basic principles to common scenarios & new situations
- Developing Practical Staff Codes of Conduct / Professional Boundaries
